FOSTER + PARTNERS

One of the world's foremost architects, Norman Foster founded his architectural practice in 1967. Foster + Partners has been responsible for iconic buildings such as Apple's California headquarters, France's dramatic Millau Viaduct, London's 'Gherkin' tower and the Index Tower in Dubai. The firm has garnered numerous awards, including the coveted Pritzker Prize in 1999.

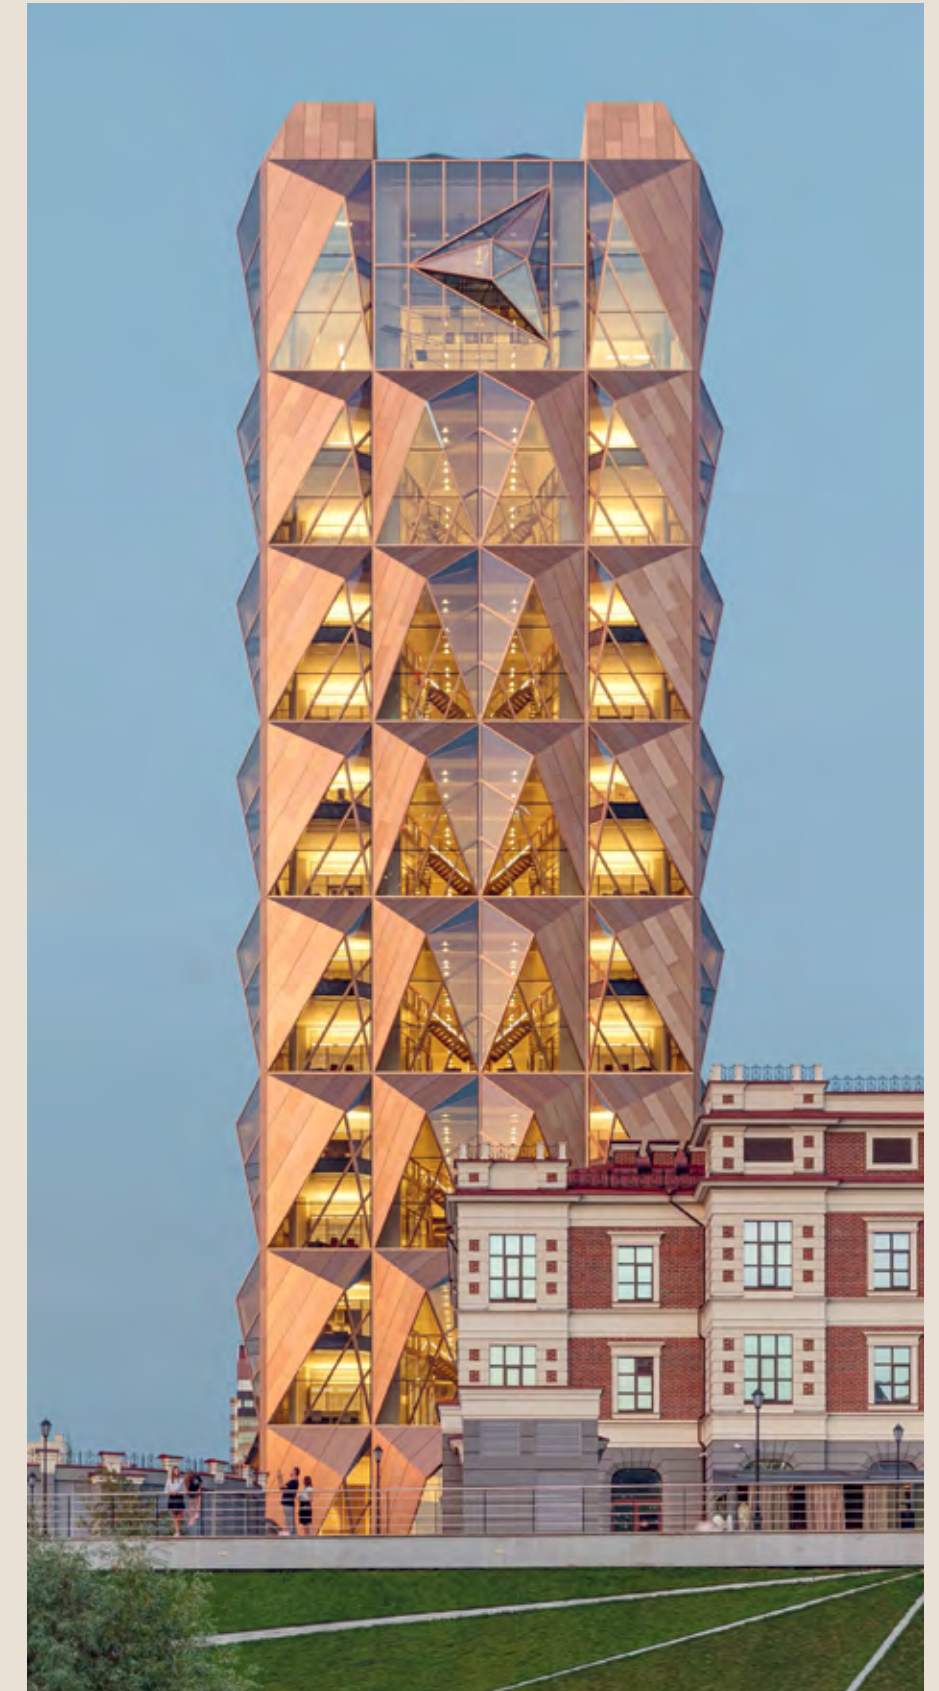

'Foster + Partners was the obvious choice to design an iconic building to house both The Lana Residences, Dorchester Collection, Dubai and the Dorchester Collection hotel. Developed by OMNIYAT, the structure comprises two distinct towers, one the hotel and the other The Lana Residences. This layout guarantees the privacy and exclusivity of The Lana Residences, while the towers' interconnected design enables residents to conveniently access the hotel facilities via their own private entrance. The building's innovative use of floor-to-ceiling glass, and terraces throughout its full height make it an instantly recognisable architectural icon, with uninterrupted views across the water to the Burj Khalifa and central Dubai.

“Every project starts with fresh thinking, leading to a solution that is tailor-made to both site and user...”

“Dubai is emerging as a global hub for the design and construction industry, exemplified by the varied scope and breadth of our projects in the region...”

GILLES ET BOISSIER

Partners in life and creativity, Patrick Gilles and Dorothee Boissier founded their eponymous studio in 2004. The couple has forged a powerful creative dynamic, where the traditional and contemporary effortlessly coexist. Past projects include the Mandarin Oriental Paris; The XI residences and the Baccarat Hotel in New York; the Mandarin Oriental Ritz Madrid; and Hakkasan restaurants in Dubai and the US.

At The Lana Residences, Dorchester Collection, Dubai, Gilles et Boissier has used natural materials and pieces from its own line of furniture and lighting to unify the building, from the smallest details to the striking marble entrance lobby.

In this collaboration with OMNIYAT, Gilles et Boissier has found a marriage made in heaven.

“If you have a diamond among diamonds, you don’t see it as beautiful... But if you have a diamond surrounded by simple rocks, you really see the diamond. We think it’s the same in design.”

DOROTHÉE BOISSIER IN CONVERSATION WITH THE NEW YORK TIMES

“[Luxury is]... linked to freedom, and feeling protected, too. It’s also something that brings you wellness. It can be simple, but it makes you feel well.”

DOROTHÉE BOISSIER

“The most important thing is the layout... it gives quality to the place. That’s before you start with materials, and decorations... It’s what we call in France, ‘interior architecture’ and it’s very important.”

DOROTHÉE BOISSIER IN CONVERSATION WITH THE NEW YORK TIMES

“...we try to be honest and very close to what the client wants... As soon as we have a story and the concept... it’s not just a nice project but a project that really has something to say.”

DOROTHÉE BOISSIER IN INTERVIEW MAGAZINE

“Within The Lana Residences, Dorchester Collection, Dubai, Gilles et Boissier has brought to life elegant and refined interiors that feature impeccable finishing, intricate detail and an imaginative and elegant use of materials, which bring the absolute best out of the building’s many features.”
